MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1868.

Local Items.

THE TRIAL OF MILLER.—The alleged murderer, commencing at Woodstock to-morrow.

PAST GOVERNORS OF MASSACHUSETTS.—The Journal says of the twenty-six Governors of Massachusetts since the adoption of the Constitution, there are but six living, and by the death of Hon. Levi Lincoln, Hon. George S. Boutwell is the senior ex-Governor of the State by date of service.

CORRECTION.—We ought in justice to state that the items copied by us from the Montreal News, concerning the Fenians, sent from this place, were sent to the Montreal Gazette, and appeared first in that paper, from which they were copied by the News, "for the fun of the thing," probably.

JUNE TRAINING.—The University Company, commanded by Capt. Carpenter; Company A, 1st Regiment, Capt. Mnoahan, and a section of light artillery, will hold a "June Training" in Burlington to-morrow. St. Albans military companies are not on a war footing, and the day will be usually peaceable we presume.

MORE NEW WALKS.—A new walk has been completed on the north side of Diamond Avenue, from Main Street to England Street, much to the delight of the inhabitants of that locality. The work of making a new walk on the south side of Lake Street, of a proper width, is being carried on, we are glad to state, and we hope that it will be soon completed. The walk in front of Mr. Driscoll's new block has been a "man trap" about as long as good nature can endure it, or good sense requires.

DR. WM. W. FLETCHER, of Concord, N. H., has today made his fifth shipment of live Black Bass from this place to N. H. for the purpose of stocking the waters of that State, under the direction of the fish commissioners. They were caught with a hook in the Bay and are transported in a large open box with slats across near the top on which are placed large pieces of ice and over all a coarse cloth.

THE THEATRE.—The attendance Saturday evening was larger than on the evening previous, and the play, the Drunkard, was acted in as perfect a manner as could be expected in the country. All the company sustained themselves well in their several parts, and especially noticeable was the acting of Mr. Stetson, as Edward Middleton, and Anna Levering as Mary Wilson.

To night is the last appearance of this troupe in St. Albans and they deserve a rousing house. The play, Uncle Tom's Cabin, is familiar to our readers, and we doubt not it will be well presented. From here this company go to Montpelier and we can assure the people of that town that they will find them deserving of their patronage.

THE "BURGLARY SELL."—Our venerable cotemporary up street, in his elaborate article concerning our "account of a bold attempt at robbery in the store of Messrs. Shattuck & Stranahan, on Lake street, on the night of the 27th, says:

"The young men in the store, in view of the rather exposed condition that night, were chatting about the opportunity it afforded for burglary, and being partially overheard by some one connected with the Transcript office were inquired of by him. Tipping the wink to the others, one of them related a monstrous Munchausenism which the credulous inquirer delightedly took home as solemn truth, and which was as credulously swallowed by the 'experienced editors.'"

The "facts" in the foregoing, which were "clefited" on "inquiry of Police Officer Sweet, and at the scene of operations" go to show that there was a deliberate attempt to impose upon "some one connected with the Transcript office." Whether the perpetrators of such a "sell" will realize a large fortune out of it can as readily be answered by our readers as by us.

HANDSOME TRAIN.—As we passed through the depot in this place to-day, we noticed a very fine looking train made up for the noon trip South and East; and so clean did it appear that we made an inside examination of it. We were informed that all the cars of the train had been newly painted and fitted up, and in passing through them we noticed, as one could not help noticing, that they were as clean and comfortable as a parlor.

The passage ways were neatly carpeted, and the floor under the seats covered with movable matting, while the seats themselves were newly cushioned and as easy as arm chairs. The ladies' car was particularly noticeable as having a retiring room with lounge, chairs, mirror, wash basin and napkins, and water for drinking and ablution, where ladies wearied as they often are by travel and heat of summer, may cool their heads and even take the little "nap" which often proves so refreshing. The train was a model of comfort and convenience in travel, and worthy of all commendation.

TOM THUMB AND TROUPE.—These Lilliputians, as will be seen by an advertisement in another column, give one of their entertaining lectures at Academy Hall in this village on Thursday evening. The St. Louis Republican says of their performances:

In addition to the exhibition of their diminutive selves singly, in pairs or altogether, and in a variety of poses and costumes, they sing, dance, and amuse the audiences in a variety of ways too numerous to mention. Commodore Nutt is quite an actor and mimic, and displays much genuine ris comique in his personation of the shillelah brandishing Irishman. He is noticeably acute and sprightly in all he does, and Miss Minnie is a model of daintiness, prettiness and propriety. Tom Thumb and his wife demean themselves with a gravity and sobriety becoming in married people, yet add their quota to the general entertainment. Our readers will miss a rare spectacle if they fail to see them.

CONVENTION AND CONSECRATION.—The Annual Convention of the Diocese of Vermont will be held in Christ church, Montpelier, on Wednesday next, on which day the consecration of the Rev. Dr. Bissell, of Geneva, N. Y., the Bishop elect, will take place. The Rt. Rev. Samuel Allen McCloskey, L. D., of Detroit, Bishop of Michigan, will be the consecrator, and the sermon will be preached by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Cox, Bishop of Western New York. The consecration of the new church edifice, which has been built after plans by Mr. Randall of Rutland, will be consecrated to-morrow at 10½ o'clock, a. m. The Rev. Dr. Williams, Bishop of Connecticut, will be the consecrator. There will undoubtedly be a large attendance of clergy and laymen from this and adjoining Dioceses, on the interesting ceremonies.

SEIZURE.—Sixteen horses entered at Rouse's Point a week ago last Saturday, and shipped this way, were detained at this point on valid suspicion and finally seized for under-valuation on Friday last, by Deputy Collector Chase and Inspector Bolles. The property belonged to gentlemen of this vicinity. Two more horses which had gone on to Boston were also seized for the same reason as the above, we understand.

In connection with the above we feel justified in making a few observations upon matters relating to the duties of officers of customs, more especially for the reason that the public are disposed to judge them as we think unjustly.

As long as our laws are what they are, relating to customs, etc., there must be officers to execute them, and it is the paramount duty of such officers to be efficient. But it often happens that the most efficient and vigilant are for that very reason made the objects of dislike. Yet, as the law is a terror only to evil doers, the faithful executors of the law can very well afford to accept the dislike of that class most disposed to find fault with them. The duty of Customs Officers and Officers of Internal Revenue are almost anonymous under our Government, and for this reason there is apt to be undue prejudice against them, perhaps; but no fair minded and honest man will be willing to reflect the unpopularity of laws upon their necessary and efficient executors. If there be blame, it must be in the law-making power, and there is where it should be righted.

A POINTED CHARGE.—Judge Barrett delivered a pointed charge to the jury, on the opening of the Windsor County Court at Woodstock, on Tuesday of last week. We quote from the Standard:

The Judge delivered to the jury a brief charge impressing upon them the importance of impartiality in arriving at verdicts and the great evil of men acting as jurymen who are not honest, who are knaves, who get upon juries for the very purpose of giving verdicts to parties for whom they may feel an interest. Some persons, there is reason to believe, hang about court for the purpose of clandestinely influencing the jury, and he said that if any authentic cases of this kind should come to the knowledge of the court the parties so offending would not find it a very profitable employment. The judge said that he was led to this line of remark by the fact that recently there have been cases in the State where this thing has been practiced, particularly the McDaniel's will case in Rutland, where it was carried on most openly and shamefully. And he had been reliably informed that during the last two or three years in this country individual jurors had committed perjury and a crime against justice by claiming not to have any knowledge of causes tried before them, when in fact they had decided upon their verdict before the trial began.

The telegraph announced briefly the other day that the "visible admixture" law in Ohio had been declared unconstitutional by the Superior Court of that State. This law was passed about a year since, and was intended to prevent all people in the State who had any African blood in them, from voting. The act of the same Legislature restricting the right of students in schools and colleges to vote, has also been declared unconstitutional.

LIBERAL DONATIONS.—It is stated that Senator Grimes has given to the Public Library of Burlington (Iowa) $5,000, and to the Grinnell College $6,000, and proposes to make an endowment to Dartmouth College, in New Hampshire, sufficient to educate continuously three young men from his native county for all time to come.
